

Letter of Recommendation

To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing this letter to highly recommend Karam Matar and Abduvohid Ilhomov. As their supervisor at Iquest, I had the distinct pleasure of working closely with them during their bachelor's thesis project, which was conducted in collaboration with Blekinge Institute of Technology (BTH).

During their time with us, Karam and Abduvohid designed and developed ACID bot, an advanced multi-agent architecture driven by Large Language Models (LLMs). The core objective of their project was to build an intelligent, autonomous agent capable of handling the entire lifecycle of software bug resolution within our engineering workflow.

From an industry perspective, their work was nothing short of exceptional. Karam and Abduvohid demonstrated maturity and technical capability and they successfully tackled several complex challenges

Throughout the project, both students conducted themselves as true professionals. They were highly independent, proactive problem-solvers who required minimal oversight, yet they maintained excellent communication, keeping our team aligned and informed at every milestone.

Sincerely,

Sarugan Balachandran
